PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS (CONCURRENT SESSIONS)

Friday, 23 August 2019: 2.00pm – 6.00pm

WORKSHOP 1: HOW TO VENTILATE LIKE AN INTENSIVIST

Facilitators: Azmin Huda Abdul Rahim (Malaysia) / Wan Daud Wan Kadir (Malaysia)

Brief Overview

Basics on mechanical ventilation is crucial in managing the critically ill patients in the Intensive Care Unit. This workshop is designed with the aim to educate junior doctors on knowledge and skills on essential mechanical ventilation based on the most recent evidence and consensus guidelines.

At the end of the workshop, participants are expected to be familiar with various modes of invasive and non- invasive mechanical ventilation. In addition, they should also be confident in managing ventilation in obstructive and restrictive lung diseases.

Programme

1.30 pm	Registration
2.00 pm	Basic Modes of Mechanical Ventilation
2.30 pm	Non-invasive Ventilation
3.00 pm	Ventilation Strategies in Asthma
3.30 pm	Tea Break
4.00 pm	Ventilation Strategies in Acute Respiratory Distress Syndrome
4.30 pm	Skills Station 1: Modes of Ventilation
5.00 pm	Skills Station 2: Ventilation Strategies
5.30 pm	Closing Remarks

WORKSHOP 2: (A) MANAGEMENT OF HOME VENTILATOR MANAGEMENT (B) ADVANCED AIRWAY AND CHEST SECRETIONS MANAGEMENT

Facilitators: J Balachandran (Singapore) / Chor Yek Kee (Malaysia) / Alison Ting (Malaysia)

Brief Overview

The improvement of the care in the Intensive Care Unit has reduced the mortality rate and now many previously unsalvageable conditions can now be managed and survived. Some patients require prolonged ventilation and many need tracheostomies.

Several years ago, it was uncommon for a person on a ventilator to live at home. It was thought that people who were not medical personnel did not have the skills necessary to operate this machine. However, times have changed, and it has become important to teach families about ventilator use in the home. With a little training and practice, most people can learn how to care for a person who is on a ventilator and has a tracheostomy at home.

We wish this workshop will give you a brief insight into the aspects of home ventilator and tracheostomy care, especially for those delegates from developing countries.

Programme

1.30 pm	Registration
2.00 pm	When to Start Home Respiratory Care and How to Do it?
2.30 pm	Readiness for Tracheostomy Decannulation and Advanced Airway Clearance
3.00 pm	The Challenges of Home Respiratory Care in Sarawak and How We Overcome
3.30 pm	Tea Break
4.00 pm	Skills Station 1: Cough Assist and Lung Volume Recruitment
4.30 pm	Skills Station 2: Home Equipment / Oxygen Therapy Management
5.00 pm	Skills Station 3: Ventilator Management and Alarm Troubleshooting
5.30 pm	Closing Remarks
